Wireless Communications GREENVILLE

IN HIS OWN WORDS

"We're a Verizon Wireless retailer, so we own and operate 40 locations in four states: South Carolina, Georgia, Kentucky, and West Virginia."

"I perceive the growth in the next five years to increase every year, particularly next year we are looking to go from 40 stores to 50 stores by the end of 2013."

"The growth of our business has been two different pieces. One, we have an amazing group of people that work in our organization. They are very driven, very aggressive. Winning is the only option. Failure actually drives us to do better the next go around. (And) fortunately we've had a lot of expansion and a lot of milestones over the past four years."

"In addition to that, the wireless industry has evolved and expanded tremendously over the past five years. We've seen network speeds go from five to ten times faster, which allows the end user to do more things on a mobile device — download files, do PowerPoint presentations over the air, send large files via email. This allows business owners and entrepreneurs, soccer moms, medical field, construction — every industry — to be more mobile, to more productive on the go."

"Nowadays you see almost everyone with a wireless handset device. And on Verizon Wireless."--
